

Malacca (a great history for the Dutch)

Malacca tour is almost a must to all Dutch. They were in this place for 180 years. To see what your forefathers have built in this beautiful historical town. Look at the buildings and the architectures constructed in the 16th and 17th Century. Their narrow lanes, small entrance and long shop houses been built at that time. Visit the Heeran House for coffee or tea. Walk along the Jonkers Street to look at the antique displayed from Portuguese to the Dutch until the British ruled in this melting port along the Straits of Malacca where the history of Malaysia was born.
